About the Speaker:

Jack Bradley, B.A., CCLP, P.MM is Vice President Supply Chain, Inventory and Logistics for Strongco Corporation. Strongco is a major multiline mobile equipment dealer with 32 branch operations across Canada and in the United States. Strongco sells, rents and services equipment used in sectors such as construction, infrastructure, mining, oil and municipalities, waste management and forestry. Strongco (www.strongco.com) represents leading manufacturers with globally recognized brands (Volvo; Construction Equipment, Case, National and Grove Crane to name a few) and is listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange under the symbol SQP.

As a member of the executive leadership team at Strongco, Jack's goals are to develop an organized, strategic approach to purchasing, parts and equipment inventory management and control, logistics planning and procurement and fleet selection, policy development and management through better processes, accountability and disciplines across the Strongco organization.

Previously Jack worked in senior logistics and supply chain management positions with a number of large Canadian corporations in the manufacturing, infrastructure and construction sectors. He was also President and Partner in a supply chain consulting firm and has significant multi-modal, international transportation procurement experience across a number of industries.

Jack has provided course development support for industry leading CITT program and has written and appeared in several leading trade magazines. He was the 2010 CITT Award of Excellence recipient and a previous winner of the MHMS Alex Welch award. He has also provided course facilitation for the CITT and the PMAC and served on the Executive Board of Directors for SCL Canada. Jack is a regular speaker at annual supply chain events such as ProcureCon Canada and with the Federated Press RFP seminars series.

Jack lives in Oakville with his wife Angie. Has 2 grown successful children and 2 growing grandkids.
